

Speaker Series Spring 2011

Colloquium

Computer Science and Engineering and Cognitive Science Colloquium, February 10, 2011:

Jim Hendler, Tetherless World Professor of Computer and Cognitive Science and the Assistant Dean for Information Technology and Web Science Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute

"We Are the Web: The Future of the Social Machine"

Thursday, February 10, 2011, 4 pm, Packard Lab, Room 466

Refreshments served at 3:30 pm.

Cognitive Science and Department of Psychology Colloquium, February 16, 2011:

Dr. Jay Van Bavel, Department of Psychology New York University

"Social Identity and Cognition: Building a Metaphor for the Social Brain"

Wednesday, February 16, 2011, 4 pm, STEPS, Room 290

Cognitive Science and Department of Psychology Colloquium, March 3, 2011:

Dr. Janet Metcalfe, Columbia University

"Metacognition of Agency"

Thursday, March 3, 2011, 4:10 pm, Chandler Ullmann Hall, Room 230

Reception will follow.

For more on Janet Metcalfe's always compelling work, please visit her website

Cognitive Science, English Department, Humanities Center, Department of Psychology Colloquium, March 23, 2011:

Dr. Suzanne Keen, Washington and Lee University

"The Affective (Re)turn: What can Psychology and Literary Study Say to One Another about Narrative, the Emotions, and Impact?"

Wednesday, March 23, 2011, 4:10 pm, Linderman Library, Room 200 (Scheler Family Humanities Forum)

Co-sponsored with English, Modern Languages & Literature, Psychology and the Humanities Center

Cognitive Science and Department of Psychology Colloquium, April 22, 2011:

Dr. Roberta Golinkoff, University of Delaware

"Trading Spaces: Carving Up Events for Learning Language"

Friday, April, 22, 2011, 3:00 pm, Neville Hall, Room 003

Reception will follow.