

Should I take CSE 003 & 004 or CSE 007 for my collateral requirement?

Most Cog Sci students should take CSE 003 in the fall and 004 in the spring. Students who are strong in math or logic, or who have some prior programming experience (in any language) may prefer to take CSE 007.

CSE 007 is fast-paced. Cog Sci students who have tried it have often struggled, so don't go for this option unless you are prepared for it.

When are the different options offered?

We've been informed that starting with 2021-2022, CSE 003 will be offered only in the fall and CSE 004 will be offered only in the spring. CSE 007 will be offered both semesters.
